

A Lot to Learn

Film produced by the NZ Free Kindergarten Union c. early 1960s. The film is set in Auckland. The first section shows the training of kindergarten teachers at the Arney Rd house. The second section of the film is set in the Constance Colegrove Kindergarten in Remuera and follows a young kindergarten trainee on a teaching practice.

The film is held in Archives NZ Wellington Office

R2573167

<https://www.archway.archives.govt.nz/ViewFullItem.do?code=2573167>

To note: the record states that the film is not available for viewing and has a preservation order. In 2015 a digital copy was made of the film. A copy is held in the Head Office of NZ Kindergartens Inc. An original copy of the film is also held in the NZ Film Archive but has not yet been digitised.