GLORIOUS SPRING WEATHER IN AUCKLAND LAST WEEK: A NATURE STUDY CLASS FOR KINDERGARTEN CHILDREN

A picturesque scene in Albert Park, Auckland, when children from the Campbell Free Kindergarten visited the park for a nature study lesson. The importance to New Zealand of efficient kindergarten instruction cannot be too highly emphasised and one very unfortunate phase of the present depression is the withdrawal of the Government subsidy to the movement. However, every effort is being made to maintain the free kindergartens in every New Zealand city where they operate.
